Project Milestone 3

Features Completed: Registration page, homepage, user database. We didn't have any problems during the demo, but we've been a bit too slow with the development in general. Another issue we could face is how to programmatically generate audio on the fly, since that is needed for the lesson portion of our project. We also didn't divide up the tasks well enough, which contributed to the slow development, but we've reassessed and have hopefully divided it up so that everyone has a clear role. Below is an image of what Yash suggested, but in general he said we need to work on the database, and, most importantly, getting the login functionality working.
